

Meet Interventional Vein Specialist Dr. Farshid Etaee

BY AMANDA HUNTSMAN

At the Newport Beach Vein Treatment Clinic, patient care is guided by expertise, transparency, and a deeply personal approach. Led by interventional vein specialist Dr. Farshid Etaee, the practice delivers comprehensive vein evaluations and minimally invasive treatments in an environment designed to prioritize outcomes, comfort, and long-term trust.

Dr. Etaee recognized early in his career that vein care was often treated as a volume-driven service rather than a thoughtful medical specialty. Over time, this realization shaped his vision for a different model; one focused on physician involvement at every stage of care and grounded in evidence-based medicine. In 2024, he joined Vein Treatment Clinic, powered by VIP Medical Group, bringing his physician-led, patient-centered philosophy to Orange County and establishing a setting where individuals receive careful evaluations and modern, minimally-invasive treatments without ever feeling rushed or pressured.

Through Vein Treatment Clinic, Dr. Etaee provides evaluation and treatment for a wide range of vein conditions found in the lower extremities, including varicose veins, chronic venous insufficiency, leg pain, swelling, skin changes, and cosmetic vein concerns. His specialty lies in minimally invasive procedures that enable patients to return to daily life quickly while experiencing meaningful improvements in comfort, mobility, and confidence. Education plays a central role in his work, particularly for patients who have lived with symptoms for years without realizing that effective, safe treatment options exist.

What distinguishes Vein Treatment Clinic is its fully physician-driven model. Dr. Etaee is personally involved in every aspect of care, from initial consultations and ultrasound interpretation to performing procedures and providing long-term follow-up. Patients consistently remark on the welcoming, professional atmosphere and the attentiveness of the entire staff, reflecting the clinic's commitment to treating patients like family rather than numbers. This dedication has earned Dr. Etaee consistent five-star reviews across Google and other platforms.

At Vein Treatment Clinic, it's clear that the team treats every patient they would want their own family members treated. This is evident in their honesty, clear communication, and bedside manner. Dr. Etaee emphasizes how proactive Vein Treatment is about finding the absolute best, minimally invasive solutions for its patients.

An important message Dr. Etaee shares with the community is that vein disease is not solely cosmetic. Many individuals experience pain, fatigue, swelling, skin changes, or mobility challenges without visible bulging veins, unaware that these symptoms reflect underlying medical conditions. Early evaluation can significantly improve quality of life and help prevent long-term complications.

Each month, Dr. Etaee treats hundreds of vein patients, often seeing dramatic improvements in symptoms such as heaviness, cramping, swelling, and skin changes. Many patients arrive after experiencing years of frustration and uncertainty and leave with results that meaningfully change their daily lives. His experience practicing across multiple states and care models has shaped a consistent, high-quality approach that balances clinical excellence with compassion.

Beyond the clinic, education remains a priority. Dr. Etaee actively engages the public through social media, particularly through his educational platform @MilanResearchCenter, which has grown to more than 7,000 followers and surpassed one million views in the past 30 days. His content helps demystify vein treatments and empowers patients to advocate for their health with clarity and confidence. He also maintains a professional presence on Instagram at @Dr.E_VeinMD, alongside the clinic's account @veintreatmentclinic.

Looking ahead, Dr. Etaee's goals include expanding access to high-quality vein care, collaborating with other specialists, and staying at the forefront of minimally invasive treatments, while preserving the highly personal, physician-led experience that defines Vein Treatment Clinic.

Dr. Etaee has lived and practiced in Orange County for over a year and values the coastal lifestyle, the region's emphasis on wellness and activity, and the strong sense of community. Outside of medicine, he enjoys spending time with family, traveling, staying active, and being outdoors, particularly along the coast.
